

BELOVED MINISTER DIES ON VISIT HERE

Rev. V. W. Crutchfield Succumbs
To Leakage Of Heart—Was Formerly Pastor Here

Friends here were deeply grieved and shocked late Saturday afternoon when it became known that Rev. George W. Crutchfield had passed away at the home of Prof. J. B. Harris, on Fifth street. Rev. Crutchfield and wife arrived in Richmond the middle of the week, en route from a three month's stay in Florida, to the home of his daughter, Mrs. Magin Kinzer, in Ghent. He was pastor of the Methodist church here about eight years ago, and he and his family were greatly beloved by the members of his church and many citizens were warmly attached to him by his genial and winning spirit.

During his recent work as Presiding Elder in one of the mountain districts, his health failed. He suffered from leakage of the heart and his physicians advised a trip south. His condition did not improve, however.

Rev. Crutchfield was 58 years of age. Surviving him are his wife, who was Miss Hall, of Lexington, his daughter, Mrs. Kinzer, of Ghent, one brother, Mr. Stapleton Crutchfield, of Pittsburgh, Pa., and one sister, in Louisville. The body was shipped Goshen Monday for interment, near his old home. The hearts of many warm friends in Richmond deeply sympathize with his devoted companion in her bereavement. May she lean upon the Everlasting Arm and He who has been her stay and comfort many years, guide and sustain her during this trying hour.

HOUSE BLOWS DOWN ON 15 PEOPLE

W. J. Romans, the well known farming implement, wagon and buggy man of Lancaster, who was over court day, said that Lincoln county suffered quite a severe wind storm Sunday afternoon. He had been informed that a house in which 15 people were sitting was blown down, and a barn close by was almost demolished. Mr. Romans had not heard whether anyone was killed in the destruction of the house, but it would seem almost a miracle that some of them were not seriously hurt.

FRANCE RUSHES MEN INTO GERMANY

(By Associated Press)
Paris, France, April 5.—French military measures destined to force the German government to withdraw its troops from the Ruhr basin, are now entirely in the hands of Marshal Foch. It was said at the Foreign Office today. Information tends to the belief that Germany has sent 40,000 troops into the district for which it is said there is no necessity, as the Communists are without money food or ammunition. The utmost secrecy is maintained concerning the nature of the "military precautions," which Premier Millerand has ordered Foch to take. A rumor is current that the French army began moving from Mayence and Weisbaden upon Frankfurt this morning. All soldiers on Easter holiday have been ordered to return without delay. France still has under arms 700,000 men.

Washington April 5.—State Department officials today said they had no notice of France's intention to occupy cities on the east bank of the Rhine as reprisals for the advance of German troops into the Ruhr valley neutral zone. The United States had previously notified the Allied governments that it would have no objection to the German troops' movement if they were withdrawn as soon as normal conditions were restored.

Marion Farm Brings $184.50
The Ben S. McElroy farm in Marion county, sold last week, was purchased by C. L. Brady, of Washington county. The price was $184.50 per acre. The farm contains about 157 acres and the price paid for it by Mr. Brady was therefore approximately $29,000. Mr. McElroy is a brother-in-law of Dr. J. G. Bosley of this city.

MRS. TAPP DIES FROM AUTO INJURIES

Warrants Against Two Young
Kirkville Men Have Been
Been Changed to Murder

Mrs. Charles Tapp died Sunday evening at her home on First street, after several weeks intense suffering, caused from injuries she received when she was struck by an automobile in Richmond. Surviving her are her husband and three sisters, who were at the bedside when she died. She was about 46 years of age, and was a daughter of the late John Taylor, who was postmaster for over 20 years in Richmond.

Funeral services will be conducted at her late residence on First street Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Burial will be in the Richmond cemetery.

Young Men To Be Tried

As a result of the death of Mrs. Tapp, the warrants against Wm. Prewitz and Frank Simpson, two well known young men of the Kirkville section, who were in the car that struck Mrs. Tapp, breaking her hip and causing her death, have been changed from assault and battery to murder. Sheriff Whitlock said Monday. The young men will be arrested at once, he said, and it is probable that they will have an examining trial at once. Both claim that they are not at fault, and that the deplorable accident was entirely unavoidable, and their friends say that they will be able to show this when their cases come in.

HEAVY HAIL DOES DAMAGE SUNDAY

The predicted Easter cold wave came a few hours late, but it came all right. This section experienced heavy rains Sunday afternoon, but a hail storm of unusual intensity and duration caused a lot of damage in the lower end of this county, Garrard and Lincoln. Messrs. Wm. Hunley and S. W. Pife, who were returning home from Crab Orchard in an automobile late Sunday afternoon said that hail fell to a depth of several inches, and blocked all traffic for quite a time. They say that the hail stones were often as large as walnuts.

Early risers Monday found snow falling, and the thermometer continued to fall during the day with snow coming steadily around noon, and the mercury registering close to the freezing figure.

EASTER STORM IS SPREADING

(By Associated Press)
Washington, April 5.—The Easter storm, which buried the Southwest and Midwest under a snow blanket is spreading today, with an accompanying cold wave, between the Appalachian and Rocky Mountains. Frost and freezing tonight are predicted for the east gulf states and extreme north Florida and the Ohio valley. Freezing temperatures prevailed today as far south as the interior of Texas, northern Louisiana, Mississippi and Alabama.

MORROW PARDONS PARIS BANK WRECKER

Governor Says He'll Make Public
His Reasons For Freeing
George Alexander

Frankfort, April 5.—Prior to issuing a pardon for George Alexander, convicted of wrecking the Alexander Bank of Paris, Governor Morrow today announced he would make public his reasons for not freeing Alexander. The failure of the bank in 1914 created a sensation.

Miss Kate Alexander, daughter of the former banker, has labored indefatigably to obtain a pardon for her father.

The statement was coupled with the Governor's definite announcement that he would issue the pardon. Alexander is said to be in bad health. He entered the prison a robust person and is now a physical wreck. The Governor's reasons for issuing the pardon are embodied in a statement which he dictated to a stenographer during the forenoon.

Alexander has served approximately five years of a practically indefinite sentence. Those who know Alexander say that few of his most intimate friends would recognize him today. When he entered the penitentiary he was a man of distinguished bearing, and apparently in perfect health. He now is said to be literally a mere shadow of his former self. His health is reported to have been shattered, and it is said that Governor Morrow has consented to pardon him largely for this reason.

Failure of the Alexander State Bank at Paris caused one of the biggest financial sensations in the history of Kentucky. Hundreds of depositors, a great many of them persons of limited means, lost all their savings in the crash.

Alexander is nearly 70 years old. Until the closing of his banking institution, known as George Alexander & Co., May 19, 1914, Alexander was considered to be among the most prominent and respected citizens of Central Kentucky. He and his family were social favorites. They belonged to a distinguished family and lived expensively, and until the failure of his bank Alexander was regarded to be a man of immense wealth.

As the firm was not a national bank but was in business under a state charter, the arrest and subsequent prosecution and conviction were brought about under the jurisdiction of State Courts. He was sentenced to and since has been confined in the Kentucky State Prison.

The failure, the prosecution and the conviction attracted widespread interest, not only because of the prominence of the Alexanders, but because of the extensive loss to depositors of ranks and conditions of life. A veteran saddler was reported to have lent to the banker his life savings of almost $40,000, collateral for which was missing when the examiners took charge of the bank after the failure. Losses of from $15,000 to $20,000 were reported by men and women who had considered withdrawing and re-investing their funds but who had been prevented upon by Alexander to leave them in the keeping of his company. The pathetic element of the case aside from the losses suffered by the depositors, was said to be the sorrow and humiliation visited upon the family of the defaulting banker. Relatives sought to sustain and comfort him, both before and after the trial, refusing to believe that there was any wrongful intent or desire to defraud, and contending that the bank failure was due to a faulty system of keeping accounts.

GRAND JURY TO PROBE LOBBYING

Frankfort, Ky., April 5.—As a result of the House legislative committee investigation in connection with the Loan Shark bill, the Franklin county grand jury will inquire into lobbying during the last session of the general assembly. Circuit Court Judge Stout, taking cognizance of press reports, of the probe committee's work at the Reformatory, charged the jury which began its session today, to ascertain if there is any foundation for the probe committee's accusation.

MRS. WILSON TO SERVE POT ROAST TODAY

"Save Money On Meat" Week
Starts and White House
Kitchen Co-operates

Washington, April 5.—It is expected that by popular utilization of the less costly meat cuts today, which is the first day of "save money on meat" week in the Southern States, consumers will effect enormous saving without injuring the retailer or wholesaler or decreasing the price paid to the farmer for his live stock.

Agricultural colleges, hotels, motion picture theatres, community centers, newspapers, retailers, wholesalers, lecturers, demonstrators and other persons and agencies are cooperating to bring the value, economy and palatability of the less expensive meat cuts, particularly those of the forequarter, to the attention of the people.

Although the finest hotels are serving meat dishes made from the less expensive portions, many housewives are neglecting them. A considerable part of the farmer's meat animal finds no market with the consumer and is sometimes actually wasted and often is chopped up and sold to sausage makers or other wholesalers instead of being used for individual purposes in the most economic form. Distribution has been retarded, thus increasing shrinkage, overhead expense and waste. The Bureau of Markets of the United States Department of Agriculture has reached the conclusion that a wider consumption of forequarter meat would help reduce the cost of living and lower the level of retail meat prices.

The housewife who wishes to serve in her house today the same meat dish which will be served at the White House can readily do so. Mrs. Woodrow Wilson is cooperating in the campaign conducted by the Department of Justice to save money on meat by utilization of the less costly cuts, particularly those of the forequarter.

Pot roast with vegetables will be served at the White House today. It will be prepared in accordance with the following recipe:

Pot Roast With Vegetables.
3 or 4 pounds chuck roast
1 cup sliced carrots
1 cup sliced onions
1 cup celery cut in bits
1 cup sliced turnips
3 tablespoons fat (preferably from salt pork)

If the meat is not solid in a solid piece, skewer or tie it into shape, wipe it with a damp cheesecloth, and roll in flour. Boil vegetables in salted water to barely cover until soft. Rub through a coarse strainer. Heat fat in a frying pan or Dutch oven. Put in meat and brown on all sides. If the frying pan is used, transfer the meat, after it is browned, to a kettle, unless the pan is deep enough to hold the beef. Pour the vegetables and their liquid over the meat, together with any preferred seasoning. Cover tightly and let simmer slowly for four or five hours, turning twice. Thicken the gravy a little, and pour over the meat.

MULE MARKET ACTIVE MONDAY

The mule market was very active here Monday. Buyers say that the market continues high. The cheapest pair that was seen sold was bought by John Goggin, of Lincoln county, for $475. They were a team of six-year-old horse mules. The buyer's name was not learned. Charles Bean, of near Bryantville, bought a pair of mare mules for $700. D. L. Cobb, of this county, paid $300 for a 5- or 6-year-old mare mule which he bought from Wilkes Rogers, of near Boonesboro.

RARE TREAT FOR MUSIC LOVERS

Will Be Festival Here May 20
And 21 With Noted Artists
Participating

"All arrangements for the big annual music festival have been completed and music lovers in Richmond and this section of Eastern Kentucky are assured of a rare musical treat. The festival will be held on Thursday and Friday, May 20, and 21.

The "Piper of Hamelin" will be given the first evening by a chorus from the Training School, supported by the sopranos and alto of the festival chorus with Mr. Walter Vaughn as tenor soloist taking the part of the "Piper." The first part of the program will be of a miscellaneous character consisting of solos and selections by the popular Cincinnati stringed quartet.

On Friday afternoon the primary grades of the Training School will give a program, and in the evening Handel's famous oratorio "The Messiah" will be given by the full festival chorus, soloists and orchestra. The orchestra will consist of a number of well known musicians from Cincinnati including the stringed quartet and some of the best local talent.

The following soloists have been engaged for the occasion:

Soprano—Mrs. Mary Ann Kaufman-Brown. Tenor—Mr. Walter Vaughn. Alto—Miss Alice Metcalf. Bass—Mr. Albert d'Schue Harberstro. Mr. Harberstro possesses a real basso cantante voice of a remarkably beautiful quality, wide range, clear intonation and rich timbre. Of his singing the Omaha World-Herald says: "His art reveals the soul and all its emotions and in his singing he displays a clear spiritual perception. His enunciation is perfect and his interpretation unique and original."

Miss Mary Ann Kaufman-Brown has for several years past been the soprano soloist with Minneapolis symphony orchestra and is well known to the musical world. The Chicago Inter Ocean says: "The singing of Mary Ann Kaufman disclosed a brilliant voice of warm sympathetic color of sturdy power and romance and her singing was in excellent style, musically and eloquent."

Since singing in the festival here last year Mr. Walter Vaughn has sung in numerous festivals and concerts in leading cities throughout the North and East, scoring the highest success as a real American tenor.

Miss Alice Metcalf is well known to music lovers of Richmond and needs no commendation. She will appear in a new role as alto soloist.

The Festival Chorus is making rapid progress under the training of Dr. Myers and will be in excellent condition to do its part toward making the festival this year one of the great musical events that has ever taken place in Eastern Kentucky.

STRIKE AND SNOW STOP CHICAGO TRAINS

(By Associated Press)

Chicago, April 5.—Train service thru out the Chicago district, already seriously crippled by the heavy snow, was virtually demoralized today by spread of an unauthorized strike of switchmen of 11 railroads. Twenty five hundred men are out with 9,000 in prospect according to their leaders. The city's entire police force was placed on reserve duty.

Fifty thousand stock yards employees will be thrown out of employment by the strike, packers said today. An embargo on express shipments became effective today. The Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen are importing "union" strike-breakers to break the strike, which union officials assert, violates their agreements.

Ireland Quiet Today

Bublin, April 5.—The fourth anniversary of the rebellion of 1916 passed quietly in Dublin up to noon today. LEGION TO ACT ON JACK DEMPSEY

Local Post May Take Action To Night Against Exhibition Of His Motion Picture

Jesse Dykes Post of the American Legion, will hold a meeting at the court house tonight at 7:45 o'clock, and the officers are issuing special calls for a full attendance of the members. They say that some important action is to be taken in regard to the showing of the Jack Dempsey picture.

Members of the Legion are branding the man who is styled the world's champion fighter as a slacker of the worst sort inasmuch as he did not fight for his country at a time when it needed him and now he is fighting when he can get the money by doing it. Dempsey has been indicted as a draft dodger out in California and his case will come up in the federal courts there in a week or so. The principal witness against him is said to be his wife from whom he has been separated yet whom he claimed to be supporting, as a reason for exemption from the draft. It is said that Legion posts in quite a number of places have taken steps to prevent the showing of Dempsey's moving picture. The picture is run as a serial and already two installments have been shown to big houses here.

MISS WARD'S COMPANY PUTS OVER BIG DEAL

Formal announcement has been made at Lexington of the plan to erect a magnificent new moving picture theatre there by the Phoenix Amusement Company, which operates the Richmond theatres and in which Miss Anna Bell Ward, local manager, is heavily interested. The Lexington Leader told of it Sunday as follows:

One of the biggest real estate transactions ever negotiated in Lexington, considered from a monetary standpoint, was completed Saturday when papers were signed by the Harding estate and Mrs. Margaret Cox, leasing to the Phoenix Amusement Company for 99 years the Leonard Hotel property on the south side of West Main street between Limestone and Upper, together with the business house on the east adjoining the hotel and now occupied by the Cogswell barber-shop. President John B. Elliott signed the papers as head of the Phoenix Amusement Company. The deal involves a total consideration in rentals for the period covered by the lease of approximately $1,500,000.

Barney J. Treacy, secretary of the Phoenix Amusement Company, stated that the property was leased as a site for a magnificent motion picture and vaudeville theatre which the company intends to erect within the next year at a cost of $250,000. The paper says that the old opera house will be turned into a garage and the Ben Ali used as a high class theatre for the legitimate or "spoken" drama.

SWIFT'S WEEKLY PRODUCE REVIEW

Production and receipts of eggs, especially at large markets, have shown very material increase during the week, resulting in lower prices, especially at eastern seaports points where prices have been ruling relatively higher than at central markets, such as Chicago.

Easter demand for eggs has been quite heavy and a generally satisfactory factory trade has been reported. Production of eggs is now at its height as is usual during the months of April and May, and the surplus over current requirements will go to storage.

Receipts of live poultry are extremely light, indicating that the farmers are holding their flocks on account of egg production.

The demand for frozen poultry is good; stocks are moving freely into consumption and the total stocks appear to be slightly lower than previous year.

Actual arrivals of Danish Butter and prospective arrivals have influenced lower butter values, especially at large centers. Production of butter in the United States is showing an increase.

HAMILTON MAY RUN FOR JUDGE

Internal Revenue Collector May
Be Candidate To Succeed
John D. Carroll

Democrats all over this appellate court districts are interested in the rumor that Collector of Internal Revenue Elwood Hamilton may be a candidate for Judge of the Court of Appeals to succeed Judge John D. Carroll, who has announced that he intends to retire and practice law in Louisville. Collector Hamilton, whose home is in Frankfort, is proving one of the most faithful and efficient officials anywhere in his rigid and impartial enforcement of the state prohibition laws, served several terms in the legislature from Franklin county and is conceded to be one of the ablest attorneys at the bar at the state capital.

Many country newspapers over this district are giving him hearty endorsement for the position. It has been reported that Hon. Rogers Clay, of Lexington, who is Commissioner of the Court, would be candidate, but it is hardly believed that if Collector Hamilton announces for the office, that Clay will oppose him, as it is conceded that Mr. Clay is continue as Commissioner of the court as long as he wants to, and that place pays the same salary as Judge.

The Stanford Interior Journal and the Danville Advocate both announce their support of Mr. Hamilton if he becomes a candidate for the appellate bench. The Stanford paper prints the following strong editorial in his favor, which the Danville paper reprints with its hearty endorsement:

For many years after the Civil War the unsettled conditions of the country made possible the bringing of thousands of lawsuits, and brought before the public the best talent in the land, both as practitioners and judges. The recent world war has to a certain degree brought out a demand for legal talent, more especially on the bench than in the bar. This year a judge of the Court of Appeals is to be chosen in this district to succeed Chief Justice John D. Carroll, who will not seek another term. The interior Journal has no interest in any candidate further than a desire to see that he is a man of clear, sound intellect, young vigorous and capable of bearing the burdens that will be placed upon his shoulders. In Hon. Elwood Hamilton, of Frankfort, we believe the people could look to with a certainty that the many intricate questions coming before him as judge, would be disposed of with clearness and precision. As many of our readers know, Mr. Hamilton is Collector of Internal Revenue for the entire state. As such he has shown to a marked degree judicial soundness of mind, for the hundreds of knotty problems coming up as a result of Federal taxation and the Federal prohibition amendments, have made it necessary to render many decisions, which have been models of judicial soundness and purity of diction. The Interior Journal does not know that Mr. Hamilton wants the office, but it does know that if he should enter the race he will be a hard man to down not so much because he may understand what is commonly known as the game of politics, but because of the splendid record he has established as the head of the Federal revenue office of Kentucky. We hope Mr. Hamilton will give the matter serious consideration.

SUIT OVER COW AND CALF
In the Madison County Court Saturday, a verdict for the plaintiff was rendered by a jury, in the case of William Barnes against Ed Sprakes, in an action for the rescission of a contract, by which the plaintiff asked for the return of $135, the amount paid the defendant for a cow and calf, the plaintiff claiming that the cow was not what the defendant guaranteed her to be.

A warrant against W. F. Marcum, charging him with failing and refusing to send his children to school, was filed away, the defendant promising to put his children in school.

Hattie Farris was appointed and qualified in the county court, as guardian for Titus Bennett and Ashford Bennett, with John D. Goodloe, Jr., as surety.

Hit In Eye By Coal

O. B. Toombs, of Danville, probably will loose his sight from being struck in the eye with a chip of coal from a block he was breaking up. He was taken to a Cincinnati specialist, but small hope for restoration of his vision is entertained.
